When it comes to hiring and building great teams...
Does your company know what is TRULY IMPORTANT to your staff?

Outstanding

21%
of employees strongly agree their performance is managed in a way that motivates them to do outstanding work.

60%
of employees say the ability to do what they do best in a role is "very important" to them.

TASK

35%
of employees have changed jobs within the last three years.

year ONE year TWO year THREE

Building an effective team is the core of any organization's success. How, exactly, do you build a successful team? Having insight into what today's employees are thinking and feeling is the first step in creating opportunities that appeal to what matters most to them.

53%
of employees say a role that allows them to have greater work-life balance and better personal well-being is "very important" to them.

JOIN US

Join Us

Welcome!

88%
of employees do not strongly agree their organization does a great job of onboarding new employees.

Congrats!

41%
of employees say a significant increase in income is "very important" to them when considering a new job.

Understanding what employees really want from their workplace will help you build an organization of dedicated, loyal and engaged employees.

TTI SUCCESS INSIGHTS®